

A Gathering organized by the Departments of Chemistry, History and Mathematics under the auspices of the
Carnegie Initiative on the Doctorate

“The Stony Brook PhD – Entering the Real World”

A Panel Discussion with Questions and Answers on Careers and Life in General

Grad Chem Room 412, October 21, 2005, 3:30 pm
Refreshments at 3pm

Meet real Stony Brook alums.
Learn about the job search, the job interview, the job.
What about balancing the career with other interests?
Plan now for a successful future.

The Panel of Recent Graduates

Christopher L. Cahill, PhD in Chemistry, 1999
Assistant Professor, George Washington University
Specialty: Inorganic Chemistry/Materials

Elena Machado, PhD in English, 2003
Assistant Professor, Florida Atlantic University
Specialty: Caribbean and U.S. Latino Literatures

Jennifer Slimowitz, PhD in Mathematics, 1998
Associate Program Manager
Office of International Science and Engineering
National Science Foundation

Stephen C. Preston, PhD in Mathematics, 2002
Visiting Assistant Professor, Stony Brook
Specialty: Fluid Mechanics and Geometry

Stephanie Smith, PhD in History, 2002
Assistant Professor, Ohio State University (Columbus)
Specialty: Latin American History

James Genova, PhD in History, 2000
Assistant Professor, Ohio State University (Marion)
Specialties: European, African, and World Histories

Tianbo Liu, PhD in Chemistry, 1999
Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, Lehigh University
Specialty: Physical Chemistry

Supported by the Department of Chemistry with a grant from the Dreyfus Foundation, the Departments of History and Mathematics, and the Office of the Graduate School

Reception following the event at the University Café.

If you need a disability-related accommodation, please call (631) 632-7012. AA/EOE